BRITAIN AND FRANCE MAKE NEW COMPACT

Special Accord Reached on Question of U.S.

Debt

PARIS, July 13.—The first immediate consequence of a long and difficult argument there are lights with knives and guns. Day after day the future cannot undertake to make the best of the situation in the State without first consulting France, Premier Herriot told the Chamber of Finance Committee this evening.

The new accord he said, is a compact between the "gentlemen" reached at Lusanne and the principle is that gentlemen's compact is that the United States would not ratify the League of Nations unless it had an immediate and peaceful settlement of its own debt.

SPECIAL ACCORD

At Cologne last night there was a fierce struggle between the Communists who attempted to hold a meeting in defiance of the police. The fight was between the Communists and the armored car. The Communists ripped up the pavements, spread glass and stones and set fire to the highway. Police arrested 42 and seized numerous guns and other weapons.

Details of Great Waterway Being Ironed Out Now

WASHINGTON, July 13.—White House officials announced today that a new Anglo-French accord, to be signed in the House of Commons, will be agreed upon with Canada for construction of the huge St. Lawrence waterway project, said President Hoover at an early date.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—U.S. state department officials today announced that a new Anglo-French accord, to be signed in the House of Commons, will be agreed upon with Canada for construction of the huge St. Lawrence waterway project, said President Hoover at an early date.

Long-distance telephone conversations between the U.S. and Canada are ironing out remaining details of the great international canal project, which is estimated to cost approximately $800,000,000.

Menandura upon the principal features of the complicated agreement have been agreed upon in the main, said the Canadian and United States officials and the work of bringing them into one agreement will be completed in a few days.

More than 2,000 horsepower will be developed in the interests of the St. Lawrence project, according to the estimates of the power authority of New York.

The St. Lawrence project will be brought to a conclusion when this agreement is signed.

It is expected that the St. Lawrence will convert that river into an ocean highway.

ROOSEVELT TO STEER CLEAR OF BEER FIGHT

Candidate Feels it Would Not be Proper for Him to Exert Influence

ALBANY, N.Y., July 13.—Governor Roosevelt has decided not to influence congress at this session to modify Volstead act or submit a resolution to the states, although he favors both moves.

His attitude was explained by associates today as a result of urgent telegrams from many congressmen in the Democratic leadership in the present attempt by some members of congress to immunize themselves along those lines.

ACTION NOT PROPER

He feels, his friends said, that he could not consistently pick and choose what he would do to help him, and that to be consistent, if the time should come, he would be obliged to drop his dues as governor of New York.

He has been in Washington, demanding immediate reforms in all of the progressive reforms advocated in the Democratic platform.

This course, he feels, is not proper.

MONSTER PARADE

The governor appeared to be in high spirits just before the big Labor Day parade, which he attended last night by the city of Albany, including a parade of 10,000 marchers, and the children of the red brick executive mansion.

The celebration had a dual significance, in that it was arranged by the CIO, the Communist Democratic leaders of Albany, who were in Tammany support of Al Smith, and the former governor, who was Mayor John Boyd Thacher.

Smith, who was a delegate who voted for Smith in preference to Roosevelt.

FAREWELL INTERVIEW

John L. Lewis, former prime minister, now lord president of the council and right hand man of the prime minister, was in London to confer with a group of business leaders to give a brief farewell interview to impounding newspapermen.

It is a very great occasion, indeed, it is a vast opportunity, and it is a great privilege, Mr. Baldwin firmly declared.

The great clock was fast approaching, and Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, finally arrived and got a few words.

Then there were anxious inquiries, "Where's Rumson?"

"I am not Walter R. Rumson, president of the board of trade, in a breathless voice, he is a public figure."

As the train while drew Mr. Baldwin stood at the window of his cabin, he was seen to take a small balance tied ineffectually to read an important letter just placed in his hands.

He was forced to break off half a minute to shake hands with a ministerial colleague, and then the pair of parliament and friends who went to the station.

L. C. M. Mr. Amery, former secretary for Dominion, well known to Canadian newspapermen, was born in Whitby, Ont., divided his time between the cabinet and the exchequer, and was a member of the family.

After a long absence through the historic old station the train finally stopped and shot "Godspeed."

Finally the train was lost and the passengers were scattered in the countryside speeding towards Southampton and the flagging of the Canadian Pacific fleet.

A JOKER IN THE DECK
A transatlantic joker is in the deck while the new deal is being made at Lauzanne.

Two agreements were reached. One that has been given to the public, cuts the reparations payments to the nominal sum of three billion marks.

The text of the other "gentlemen's" agreement has not been given out. The joker interpreted this as meaning everything done at Lauzanne is contingent upon the United States cutting down the debts due from Germany's creditors.

If that is the case, Germany has been celebrating too soon, and the new deal will be off the table again. The joker even says, "Nothing will be done toward reviving the war debts until after the presidential election in the United States in November. And neither of the parties whose candidates are in the running is admitting a withdrawal of the new deal is an option."

If the "settlement" of the reparations question hinges on Germany's creditors getting a discount at Washington that will be satisfactory to them, the time to do the cheering is still in the future.

SCRAP THE U-BOAT

Another transatlantic joker goes to the bottom, taking 10 crew to death, probably a drowning death from suffocation. A French vessel is the author of this latest in a long string of tragedies which have involved the naval forces of every first class power.

The seagoing submarine, like the unmistakable ship itself, has had its day. The submarine, as a warship, is obsolescent. Even the U-boats in war time have to be placed a commanding list of sinkings in peace time. They have gone down, without harm from an enemy, in the English Channel, the Mediterranean, the Atlantic and the Pacific, leaving brave men who died the slightest chance of escape.

The smaller seaboard nations refuse to "scrap" the submarine as a measure of disarmament, because of its cheapness and its effectiveness as a weapon of defence against the U-boats.

The great powers might well give the smaller ones credit in the absence of surface ships, and thereby secure their consent to the abolition of a type of vessel that is as dangerous to its crew in peace time as it is to an enemy in war time.

NOTHING DOING OR DONE

While relief camps are being opened in Alberta, relief camps are being closed in British Columbia and the men turned adrift.

This is disclosed in a warm protest from Major Taylor of Victoria, who complains in a letter to the editor of the numerous thousands of men from the camps, for whom the government cannot provide. The Major says he acted at Victoria what was the meaning of shutting down the camps and was referred to Ottawa. When he wired Ottawa he was told to wait for a reply.

Alberta has an interest in this because it means the road construction program launched by Premier Topley last year with a blaze of trumpets has peters out. Construction came to a standstill last year. It ever got started, when Premier Topley took up the task, the remaining the Tolmie Government had been doing for the camps.

These were maintained throughout the winter as relief camps only, and are now being closed. Which means there have been no road-construction camps between Jasper Park and Blue River, and there is no more for the summer, and that the opening of the highway from Edmonton to Vancouver is shoved another year into the future.

THE MONEY QUESTION

So far as U.S. publics been informed of the program for an International Conference on subject discussed this is likely to amount to mere immediate interest in Canada than the "money question."

This has been set down for discussion. Mr. Bennett informed parliament some months ago, and it is to be supposed that the Canadian government, after a few to securing a uniform basis upon which the Empire countries will base their currencies.

At present Canada and South Africa are still on the gold standard, and are in a position to make their money they are on. While Great Britain and the other Dominions are off and showing no disposition to try to get on. The inequalities thus created between the currencies of the gold and the non-gold Dominions are positive and serious hazards to the Empire, trade, to promote which the conference has been called.

So far as Canada is concerned we seem to be suffering to some extent the disadvantages of a depreciated currency without the advantages.

Our dollar is being held in New York, despite the gold backing. We must pay a premium there in discharging debts or in squaring up an unfavorable balance of trade.

On the other hand, Canadian products sold abroad are sold largely at a concession, and are not getting the gold standard. When the reparations problem became acute again in 1929, it was another program whose construction was supported by Mr. G. Young, of the General Electric, and Mr. Peter Morris, who went his project, and when the financial calamity of last year was added to the same Europe, Britain stepped forward in the nick of time with his project for a year's moratorium on reparations, and won.

In the case of wheat, it is said the Canadian farmer would get 62 cents a bushel instead of 56 cents, the buyer overseas paying the same price. There would be a corresponding reduction in the cost of Canadian products abroad, whether raw materials or manufactured.

Whatever may be said against "inflation" and in favor of maintaining the gold standard under all circumstances, one thing seems to be clear enough: Canadian farmers and other producers cannot subsist and pay their debts on the prices they are getting for their products.

That is the vital point in the whole situation, and the one to which the Government of Canada should give attention. The money question comes up for consideration at the moment, but the real problem is that the present level would mean wholesale bankruptcy of producers, with the bankruptcy of municipalities and provinces looming in the background, and more and more were to be added.

Whatever its advantages, adherence to the gold standard would be a curse if it were bought at the price of the general ruin of the country's taxpayers. A pretended adherence to the standard—and that seems to be what Canada is really doing—is not worth a moment's risk, and ought to be abandoned.

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

Now that the plans for the new land, timber and registry offices received, tenders for their erection called for and the deeds for the lots on Victoria registered in the name of the government, we are bound to believe—and will believe, if the buildings are proceeded with—that the minister of interior has done his duty in the attorney-general office.

That his colleagues in the cabinet have not seen fit to bear out the minister of interior in his interior, his little hand special, no doubt causes him some chagrin, but they can do without him a good deal better than he can do without them. The minister of interior by sending a gratifyingly insulting letter to Mayor McGowan. Will the gentle reader kindly compare the assurance of the minister of interior in the house that the agent at Edmonton "acted contrary to instructions" with his censure on the interior minister?

He is a joker, but the minister of interior is still a joker. The execution of a direction issued to an officer of his department by a minister of the crown." Quite a high sounding phrase, truly—considering where it comes from.

Three Big Powers Sign Separate Pact

Two Alberta Boys Enter Competition For Scholarships

Judging of Napoleonic Coach Building Now in Progress

When the second annual convention of the Fisher-Craigmont's Guild gathers in Detroit next month, two of the 112 boys present to compete for the $1,000 in scholarships will be Alberta craftsmen, shown at the competition, but not in progress at the time. The competition was hotel, Regine. The judging opened on July 11, with 14 entries, and 14, and the 75th entries from Western Canada will be on public display.

Twenty other awards, in addition to the scholarships and the trip to the competition, will be given to each province at the close of the Western Canada judging. These awards will be given to the boys who go to the various boys whose models were nearest the top.

The judging room used is probably unique. Three judges, Frank B. Clegg, of the Fisher-Craigmont's Guild staff, W. P. Sathy, Saskatchewan Boy Scout Commissioner, and the Director of the Royal Technical school, take one coach after another from the exhibit and measure each one against the others to some 250 different measurements, recording each and totaling the results. The judges then add the aggregate score for each of the entries, and awards at the end of the judging will be presented on the strength of these scores. So painstaking is the work that 112 models required a heavy day's work.

Hundreds of persons flooded to the competition on opening day, and the attendance has been steady. Guild officials, however, have maintained standards of quiet and courtesy among friends, families, and even their school teachers seem to find understanding and cooperation. Guild officials, which provides that Lausanne representations does not begin effect until the United States revises the trade agreements.

At the same time Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who drove the Lausanne negotiations to its settlement, considered the remaining annuities declared:

"For one thing, the world more ready to lend a hand in straightening out the troubles with which we surround ourselves, and the although America never has given a pledge to do so, she has given a pledge in any way how she is prepared to meet us."

While the debate went on in the House, with Prime Minister MacDonald in fighting mood, the British government, in a memorandum to the Lausanne government, informed Germany that the United States would not be bound by the Anglo-American understandings.

RAPS CHURCHILL

"Mr. Churchill's innocence always surprises me," Mr. MacDonald said. "He is a man of whom Churchill stated blandly in front of him:

Mr. MacDonald turned directly to the Lausanne government, and said especially that those who have vessels which carry across the Atlantic should not be asked to give up in order to make it more difficult for America to understand European situation.

David Lloyd George made one of his famous speeches in the House to bear the MacDonald speech. The veteran Liberal leader maintained that the British government informed of what took place at Lausanne. He wanted to know whether the British government had been a clear-cut link between the reparations settlement and adjustment of the American debt.

AMUSEMENTS

CAPITOL

Modern comedies, morals, especially those applied to marriage, so often the items of screen dramas are given in entirely new and refreshing treatment. The latest film in his charming picture, "Something to Do With," James Dunn, Peggy Shannon and Spencer Tracy, the film opened a three-day run at the Capitol theatre today.

Instead of the usual formulas of the matinée battlers for the security of marriage, Lanfield skillfully turns the plot about and has the girl, who is the star, come to the rescue to keep her poor sweetheart company. The audience of the ceremony would be to her.

Spencer Tracy, the third member of the cast, is given a good help in sustaining the interest of the plot and the intensity of the drama. The picture, which has various scenes of the picture which include a thrilling scene of a pride of lions.

Refrigerator Is Good Friend On Mid-Summer Days

Perishable Foods May be Kept in Good Condition

During hot weather every housekeeper makes more and more demands upon her refrigerator to keep perishable foods in good condition. But the refrigerator offers more service than the mere preservation of food. It is a great aid in meal planning. Maximum service from a refrigerator can be obtained if a meal can be prepared early in the morning and kept in perfect condition for later use.

Planning is important if nourishing meals are provided. The first meal of the day may be a meal of favorite warm weather dishes. With this at hand many simple combinations of foods for other meals will suggest themselves immediately.

For first courses here are fruit cocktails which should be prepared hours before and then chilled. Let the meal begin early in the day to be used for hors d'oeuvres and soups and kept on ice for several hours or even over night to chisel.

The salad course can be almost completely prepared in the cool of the evening. Lettuce and tomatoes are much nicer if served cold throughout before serving, while salad is a good meal to be served cold and kept on ice for several hours or even over night to chisel.

These menus for refrigerator meals are simple but interesting.

Menu 1—Jellied meat loaf, lettuce and tomato salad, blackberry shortcake, milk, coffee.

The meal may be prepared the day before and kept in the refrigerator. The potatoes can be made ready and baked when wanted for reheating. Corn on the cob will cook in eight minutes if the meal is to be served. A cake is made of baking powder biscuits, cream cheese, eggs and milk when needed for baking.

Menu 2—Sliced meat, potatoes reheated in cheese sauce, sauteed cabbage, salade, pineapple, peach pie.

A cold roast of lamb or beef, cold boiled tongue, pressed cream, seed, cold boiled tongue, creamed potatoes in cold sliced meats. Potatoes are boiled in their jackets and kept in the refrigerator. When they are peeled and diced and reheated in a white sauce to which grated cheese is added.

Shredded cabbage, grated carrots and onions are combined and added to a lime jelly and the mixture chilled all day in the refrigerator. Potato salad prepared early in the morning or the day before.

The meal which consists of previously cooked peas and hard cooked eggs combined in layers. The eggs are hard boiled and served in the buttered casseroles and stored in the refrigerator all ready for the table. The hard boiled slices of tomatoes are dipped in melted butter or bacon fat and reheated in a heat-proof platter all ready to be served.

Green peppers are seeded and stuffed with cream cheese combination of onions and cheese. These are chilled until ready to serve for the salad.

Carolina Captures Feature Race at Calgary

HAS MARGIN

IN BIG RACE

Good Prices Prevail on Afternoon's Card in Southern City

CALGARY, July 12.—Albertan Claiming Purse, the fourth race over the six and one-half furlongs, went to Carolina during Thursday's program at the Park.

This was the last feature of a wonderful card, staged during the first day of the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, in a perfect setting, as weather and track were ideal. A large, enthusiastic crowd enjoyed the sport.

Malibou D broke on top and set all the early pace, but Carolina with 7 rods to go, took command when the field had run a full one length and a half at the finish. Carolina won the race and Malibou D was second, the race and track being on the stretch.

Carolina D was throughout the afternoon, Jimmy L being the only favorite to live up to expectations.

PAYS TOP PRICE

Ben paid the top price, $26.00, to win the first race and Mac MacEachen, the second, $25.00. The next, paying $15.00. Strange to say, not one speculator had a ticket on Ben, and those who chose Ben each received $24.40.

A double ticket on Ben has netted the holder $214.40.

In capturing the feature, Carolina upped the purse, paying $15.50 straight. York Whittier paid $10.00 winning the sixth race.

A given name, Purse, was given by Davey, winning the race when he carried 120 pounds, the same Golden Sweep, who finished second, was 110 pounds, and the third, F. Douglas-Lennan, paying $6.00 to his owner, earning $12,000.00, the winning price of this most covetable gelding, as he triumphed over the mile and one-eighth on Saturday.

C. Littlejohn, Mrs. P. Snider and C. Littlejohn all made a claim for the Purse, but the race was the first mentioned won the race.

The first mentioned won the race, paying $500.00 to L. P. Jacques.

POUNCE

John Loveston and Jimmy Colins shared riding honors for the afternoon, each bringing home two wins, while Rossen, D. Warner and L. Arnold each rode a winner.

It was an interesting card, with entries starting the usual surprises, splendid riding, and racing.

INFIELD ERROR IS

Waterloo For Reds

CINCINNATI, July 13.—An error for Joe Horrane, substitute infielder, cost the Reds a 10-9 victory over ninth, enabled J. Baldwin Offers Clarion Cry for Canada Confab

Empire Trade Is Now As Valuable As Domestic Goods

More Britain Stuff Bought, More Canada's Grain is Purchased

The following article is the third of the series written by B. K. Sandwell, well known Canadian author and lecturer, with the Imperial Economic Conference.

ARTICLE NO. 2

By B. K. SANDWELL, F.R.C.S.
OTTAWA, July 13.—The series of articles which I have suggested that the question whether a given article ought to be produced in one country or imported from another country of the Empire is a question which ought to be asked, wholly from the point of view of the best interests of the Empire.

One of the results of increased importations from other countries by a country under a preferential tariff, is to make other countries better able to buy from the importing country in return. In a word, with such a policy, the result of increased importation from Empire countries will necessarily be increased exportation to Empire countries.

This is a new feature of Empire trade, and it alters its character. It gives it increased much of the character of domestic trade, and it is better for domestic trade, for buying at home rather than abroad, has always been that a man should spend it at home, and would also spend it at home, where the recipient might spend it anywhere.

NOT AVAILABLE

The argument has not hitherto been available in favor of trade between Empire countries.

It is, however, when it is possible to argue convincingly that if Canada bought more of Britain's manufactured products, it would buy more Canada's wheat, since the surplus was just as likely to go to Danish bakers as to the bakers of America, as moving pictures.

Nor could any British manufacturer be made to believe that if he bought more of Canada's wheat, Canada would buy more of his products. The argument is that it is very plain that, in spite of her preferential tariff, the more money Canada spends on imports from Britain, the more she spends in foreign countries, and the more she adds to a preference of Great Britain, which makes it possible for the first time for all the Empire to have a preference, a policy of directing their purchasing power deliberately towards Empire countries.

To the proposition that "money spent in Canada remains in Canada," the further proposition that "Canadian money spent in the empire remains in the empire" will eventually return to Canada.

ALTERS QUESTION

It is the desire of Canadians to spend their money in the empire, has it, must be admitted, a political, as well as an economic, character, and it is not an economic one, since Great Britain gains return for the benefits derived from the Canadian market, and from the British connection generally. The new element in the argument is that the existence of a tariff in Great Britain against foreign goods and against Canadian goods, will not alter the fact that, in the empire, at all, it is purely economic.

CHILD INJURED BY CAR

PROVINCIAL Alta., July 13—Louise Nevels, eight, was severely injured in a narrow escape. Monday afternoon she ran in front of a moving car. The car knocked the child down, but she did not hit the hood and ran over both legs. The child remained in a serious condition in the hospital, but is recovering well and hopes lead of recovery.

Sea Tomb Yields

King Neptune's "strong box" at last is rewarding the crew of the Italian salvage steamer Artiglio at the end of years of arduous labor off the coast of France. As this picture was taken, rupes notes, brought up from the sunken S.S. Egypt at the bottom of the sea, were being dried aboard the Artiglio. Later the foundered vessel's cargo of cotton began to yield its previous value of $1,000,000 in gold, climaxing the difficult salvaging operations.

HOPES HELD FOR RESTORING WORLD TRADE

Big Party of Envoys to Ottawa Plan Strengthening Empire

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Writer
OTTAWA, July 13.—(Special to the Press)—"After Lausanne—Ottawa," was the message of Stanley Baldwin as the British delegation, which arrived here from Britain this afternoon, showed this afternoon.

With six of his cabinet members who are traveling with him, Baldwin came to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa on the strength of a letter from the Empress of Britain, Mr. Baldwin said.

He said he had the boat deck to himself, and that he had no time for photographs.

"We are leaving," Mr. Baldwin said, "but I hope that we shall be able to add a further step towards the revival of world trade when we return to Britain." The National government by agreeing to the Ottawa plan of protection, which will lay the foundation of a great expansion of our trade to the mutual advantage of us all."

INTEREST OF COUNTRY

"While we are at Ottawa we shall be able to add a further step towards the revival of world trade when we return to Britain." The National government by agreeing to the Ottawa plan of protection, which will lay the foundation of a great expansion of our trade to the mutual advantage of us all."

The party included Stanley Baldwin, First President of the Council and leader of the British delegation, Sir Alexander Chalmers, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Ernest Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, and Sir John Wodehouse, minister of agriculture. Sir Philip Cuniff-Lister, secretary for colonies, was also present. Sir John Simon, the remaining member of the British cabinet ministerial delegation, was not present. Sir Edward Halifax, minister of state for Dominion affairs, remained at Southampton to motor to board the Empress of Britain.

FORMAL SEND-OFF

In addition there were the South African delegation, India, New Zealand, Australia, and Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, minister of Railways, minister of Mines, and A. D. P. Morris, minister of Health and Industries, the Indian delegation, including officials and members of the Indian cabinet, and the Canadian delegation, including officials and members of the British and Indian sections of the Canadian cabinet.

Sir Alastair Chatterjee, distinguished Indian statesman, and the South African representative, Mr. J. Moffat.

The Canadian delegation was on hand to bid the departing dignitaries adieu, and in deference to the British, who wished there was nothing in the nature of a formal send-off.
